Chinta Sasidhar Foundation is an attempt to give back to society by creating a self-sustainable ecosystem where humans, animals and nature coexist in harmony. The Foundation pledges to achieve this harmony on the 250-acre campus through initiatives like:

- Setting up a fully residential new age school for the underprivileged male students.
- Creating a society of engaged and empowered teaching community to enhance the quality of school education.
- Engagement of the community on large eco-farms with an intent to protect and respect nature and biodiversity.
- Scientifically and sensitively designed Senior Citizen's Homes.
- Shelters for the preservation of indigenous breeds of cows and bulls that stand on the verge of extinction.
- Yoga and Naturopathy retreat and college on campus.
